Real options valuation, also often termed real options analysis, (ROV or ROA) applies option valuation techniques to capital budgeting decisions. A real option itself, is the right "but not the obligation" to undertake certain business initiatives, such as deferring, abandoning, expanding, staging, or contracting a capital investment project. For example, the opportunity to invest in the ...

The floating rate note monetization strategy can be viewed in its entirety as a structured product, which is designed to facilitate highly customized risk-return objectives. This is accomplished by taking a traditional security, such as a conventional investment-grade bond (e.g., floating rate note), and replacing the usual payment features (periodic coupons and final principal) with non ...
