Academic writing, or scholarly writing is a prose style. Normally delivered in an impersonal and dispassionate tone, it is targeted at a critical and informed audience, based on closely investigated knowledge; and intended to reinforce or challenge concepts or arguments. It usually circulates within the academic world ('the academy').

To come up with a definition of academic writing is like asking someone to define an apple; the most common reaction from the other person would be either 'Uhh' or 'Hmm'. Either the other person would start describing it or simply define it as a 'fruit'; the latter would leave lots of room for ambiguity.
