a) Duty to accommodate to the point of undue hardship. The Code requires an effort, short of undue hardship, to accommodate the needs of persons who are protected by the Code. It would be unfair to exclude someone from the workplace or activities in the workplace because their Code-protected needs are different from the majority. The principle of accommodation applies to all grounds of the Code ...

Polygyny today: Many small faith groups broke away from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints--the LDS Church -- generally because of the church's "Great Accommodation" of 1890 which ordered the suspension of new polygyny marriages for an indefinite period. These groups are generally referred to in the media as "fundamentalist Mormons.
